1. NAVY PIER

Located in the center of downtown Chicago's lakefront, Navy Pier is one of the the most visited attractions in the entire Midwest. Chicago Shakespeare Theater serves as the cultural anchor of historic Navy Pier, situated alongside various restaurants, shops, and attractions for locals and visitors to enjoy.

2. ELLIS PARK

Located in the Douglas community, Ellis Park totals 10 acres. Outdoor features include tennis courts, athletic fields, and a soft-surface playground. The Arts and Recreation Center at Ellis Park features 32,000 square feet of facility space that includes a competitive pool, a gymnasium, a fitness center, and multi-purpose arts and community spaces.

3. GAGE PARK

Located in the Gage Park community, Gage Park hosts fun special events throughout the year for the entire family, such as Hispanic Heritage Month and other holiday-themed events.

4. KELVYN PARK

Located in the Hermosa community, Kelvyn Park spans 8.5 acres. The two-story brick fieldhouse is equipped with a fitness center and auditorium. Outdoors, the park has 3 sports fields, a basketball court, tennis courts and a playground. Kelvyn Park also offers seasonal youth sports programs and camps.

5. ECKHART PARK

Located in the West Town community, Eckhart Park totals 8 acres and features an indoor swimming pool, meeting rooms, fitness center, and boxing center. Outdoors, the park offers baseball diamonds, an athletic field for football and soccer, a playground, and garden.

6. WELLES PARK

In the heart of Lincoln Square sits this fifteen-acre park, a gathering place for musicians and sports and fitness enthusiasts of all kinds—and home to a green, wrought-iron, European-style gazebo as a centerpiece for the Lincoln Square community.

7. COLUMBUS PARK

Located in the Austin community, Columbus Park totals more than 130 acres. This historic park is considered the finest work of landscape architect Jens Jenson, and was declared a National Historic Landmark in 2003.

8. TULEY PARK

Located in the Chesterfield community, Tuley Park is a cultural facility, totaling over 20 acres, which was recognized as a Chicago Landmark in 2004. It features a garden, tennis courts, swimming pool, and a Spanish Revival-style fieldhouse.

9. HUMBOLDT PARK

Located in the heart of the Humboldt Park community, the park totals 219 acres, featuring the Institute of Puerto Rican Arts and Culture—the only museum in the nation completely dedicated to the history of Puerto Rican culture.

10. FRANK J. WILSON PARK

Residing on close to nine acres of land, Wilson Park was created by the Old Portage Park District and consolidated into the Chicago Park District in 1934.

11. RIDGE PARK

Named for the tree-studded ridge that runs along the park's western boundary, the one-time shoreline of glacial Lake Chicago totals over 9 acres in the Beverly community.

12. GARFIELD PARK

Located in the East Garfield Park community, Garfield Park totals 185 acres and features the historic Golden Dome field house. The field house holds a gymnasium, auditorium, dance studio, fitness center, boxing center, grand ballroom, and meeting rooms. After-school programs are also offered throughout the school year.

13. DVORAK PARK
